GE Proposal for Mendocino College, Language and Rationality, Communication and Analytical Thinking, Area D-2 (minimum 3 units)

Title 5 states that graduating students must successfully complete a course in communication and analytical thinking as described below:

“Courses in language and rationality are those which develop for the student the principles and applications of language toward logical thought, clear and precise expression and critical evaluation of communication in whatever symbol system the student uses. Courses fulfilling the communication and analytical thinking requirement include oral communication, mathematics, logic, statistics, computer languages and programming and related disciplines.”

(Mathematics courses approved for Area D-2 must also meet the Mendocino College graduation requirement of Mathematics Competency.)

Describe how the proposed course meets the Title 5 requirement of Communication and Analytical Thinking:
