

Will you be a freshman at Mendocino College this Fall?
Join the First Year Institute today!

The First Year Institute at Mendocino College, known as FYI, is a new program providing services to first year college students. A key part of this program is the creation of student cohorts. A cohort consists of students with similar interests learning together through common classes and activities. All first year students coming to Mendocino College will benefit from being part of a cohort.

Participating in a cohort will provide you with additional resources designed to help you achieve your educational goal. Resources such as:

- Taking classes with students who have similar goals
- A designated college counselor
- New Student Orientation
- A Summer Bridge Program
- Faculty Mentors
- Student Mentors/Tutors
- Materials to start the school year
- Visits to Universities
- Chromebook checkout
- Calculator checkout
- And more!

Start your freshman year right!
